

Metamorphosis

Pertness

I am the chosen one
Time is about to change
I'm waiting for the day
my vision will come true

I don't deny the choice
I've nothing left to lose
Remember how the fear has forced to kill my will

Straight through the depths of hell I run
I can't forget just what I've seen
Enough to make my system blow
I faced the demons of the past

They washed my soul
Is this what I deserve?
They washed my soul
This is my final metamorphosis

The sky is going grey
The world comes crashing down
My veins begin to freeze
There's nothing left to say

I feel my heart of steel
I see infinity
I'm reaching for the stars at once so strong and weak

Straight through the depths of hell I run
I can't forget just what I've seen
Enough to make my system blow
I faced the demons of the past

They washed my soul
Is this what I deserve?
They washed my soul
This is my final metamorphosis

And the sun has disappeared, everything turns to black darker than a moonless night, chasing the rising sun

They washed my soul
Is this what I deserve?
They washed my soul
This is my metamorphosis
