

My Baby Gives It Away

Pete Townshend

My baby wakes in the deep of the night
She doesn't need it , but she says it's all right
My baby digs him 'cause I'm rollin' away
My baby gives it up every day
My baby gives it, she gives it away
My baby gives it up every day
My baby. She just gives it away.

When you're alone in some city hotel,
You can get company by ringing a bell
You might go pick up a girl on the street
Well my baby gives it up totally free
My baby's counting, won't cause you no harm
My baby's brother never break a your arm
My baby ha, ha, I love her

She's cheap. oooooooooo yeah.
My baby...
You better buy yourself a new pair of shoes
And walk for a lifetime on the page you knew
You better buy an electric guitar
You better play, there's no other way to beat the blues
I beat em

My baby...
She give it way, every day, every way
My baby just gives it away

My baby's mama is a singular girl
She brought up her daughter and brought her up well
I'm breathing no more, 'cause she took it away
My baby gives it up every day
My baby gives it, she gives it away
My baby gives it up every day

My baby...

How I love her. Yeah
My baby, my baby, she just gives it away
My baby, my baby, she just gives it away
My baby, my baby, gives it away
Let me tell you, my baby, she just give it away
My baby, every day
My baby gives it up every day
My baby give it
Just gives it away
