

Thank You for Today

Phil Keaggy

Thank you for today.
I am grateful for today is all I have.

The past is much too heavy for me to carry
If I hold on to it too long
You know it will crush me
The future is far too fragile for me to worry
If I hold on to it for too long
You know it will rush me
Right now is where You live.
Right now is where I want to live.

Thank you for today,
I am grateful, for today is all I have.

In the past I am a fool, I play the fool
If I stay in that place for too long
Dreams surrender to regret

In the future I am a clown, a selfish clown
If I stay in that place for too long,
To love another I neglect

Right now, there is no temptation.
Right now, there is only faith.

Thank you for today.
I am grateful, for today is all I have.

Right now is where you live.
Right now is where I want to live.

Thank you for today.
I am grateful, for today is all I have.
