Half A Century High

In the tube where I was born I could have sworn There was so much to see There was so little to be But I was free

World at my command Through the dots I ran Looking for a man Who looked like me

And now it can be told I'm a quarter of a century old But I'm half a century high

In the tube where I was raised I was amazed On the pictures I would lean That went flashing on the screen

Oh, I was dazed But then my eyes were made Hypnotized, insane Buried in my brain In a blinding blaze

And now it can be told I'm a quarter of a century old But I'm half a century high

In the tube where I was grown I was alone The figure on the floor (Laying on the floor) The dream behind the door (I'd lock the closet door)

The sound was low Ballgames on the street Disappeared behind my feet Out of breath my heart would be To see another show

And now it can be told I'm a quarter of a century old But I'm half a century high

In the tube where I was made I was afraid Spinning through the space Another scene, another face Another shade

Mirror of my mind On electric wheels of wine Living on the lines That were displayed

And now it can be told I'm a quarter of a century old But I'm half a century high

In the tube where I was fed I lost my head I watch the lives they led Watch them to the end

And then again An open kind of laugh I gave all the mind I had And whenever I was sad I had my friends

And now it can be told I'm a quarter of a century old But I'm half a century high

In the tube where I was killed I was fulfilled Such an easy way to win Talking to my twin No sign of sin

The sacrifice was small Fascination was the fall I was extended by the wall That held me in

And now it can be told I'm a quarter of a century old But I'm half a century high

In the tube where I was killed I was fulfilled The lies of light would bend I'd stare until the end And then again

Faded and the fad I gave all the mind I had And whenever I was sad I had my friends

And now it can be told I'm a quarter of a century old But I'm half a century high

In the tube where I was born I could have sworn There was so much to see There was so little to be But I was free

World at my command Through the dots I ran Looking for a man Who looked like me

And now it can be told Tištěnoz pisnicky-akolov.cz But I'm half a century high
