

Sanctuary

Phil Stacey

Well, it's 3 a.m.
And my life feels like a battleground
I can feel the weight
And I'm trying not to let you down

And there you are Right beside me
Reaching out and just like a prayer
I can hear you say

Let me be your sanctuary
There'll always be
A place you can hide

When it's all too much
And you wanna give up
I will stand with you
Be the one you run to come to me

Just let me be your sanctuary
Let me be, let me be

It's a waste of time
Pretending like I'm made of stone
And my big mistake
Was thinking I could go it alone

I'm not afraid
To say I need you
My saving grace
All that I want is to hear you say

Let me be your sanctuary
There'll always be
A place you can hide

When it's all too much
And you wanna give up
I will stand with you
Be the one you run to come to me
Just let me be your sanctuary

I'll build a wall around you
So nothing can get in
If you want me to, if only you

Let me be your sanctuary
There'll always be
A place you can hide

When it's all too much
And you wanna give up
I will stand with you
Be the one you run to come to me

Let me be your sanctuary
There'll always be

A place you can hide

I will stand with you
Be the one you run to come to me

Let me be your sanctuary
Let me be your sanctuary
Let me be your sanctuary
Let me be your sanctuary

Let me be your sanctuary
Let me be your sanctuary
Let me be your sanctuary
Let me be your sanctuary
