

You're Not Shaken

Phil Stacey

I am sinking in a river that is raging
I am drowning
Will I ever, rise to breathe again
I wanna know why
I just wanna understand
Will I ever know why?
How could this be from Your hand?

When every little thing that I had dreamed would be just slips away like water through my hand
And when it seems the walls of my belief are crashing down like they're all made of sand
I won't, let go of You now because I know, oh, You're not shaken

I am trembling in the darkness of my own fear
All the questions with no answers
So grip me while I'm here
And I may never know why
Oh I may not understand
But I will lift up my eyes, and trust this is Your plan

When I am in the valley of the shadow of death

You're not shaken
You're not shaken

Your right here beside me
And you will never leave
