Hey, this is God Could I please have your attention There's a need for intervention Man, I'm disappointed in what I'm seeing

Yeah, this is God You fight each other in my name Treat life like it's a foolish game I'd say you've got the wrong idea

Oh, all I'm asking for is love Well, I've seen you hurt yourselves enough Oh, I've been waiting on a change in you

Yeah, this is God
I've given everything to you
But look at what you do
To the world that I created

This is God And what's with this attitude and hate You grow more ignorant with age You had it made, now look at all you've wasted

Oh, all I'm asking for is love
I've seen you hurt yourselves enough
Oh, I've been waiting on a change in you, yeah

I know your every thought Your heart and soul and every move There are so many consequences To the things you do

All I'm asking for is love
Haven't you hurt yourselves enough
Oh, I've been waiting on a change in you
A change in you, oh
This is God
