

Trust the Wise Man

Pink Cream 69

So tired of searching
Deep inside your heart
Asking the question
Were to make a start
You look in the mirror
Don't like what you see
The face of a stranger
Will never set you free
You're living your life in vein
But can you forget your shame
Walk, walk with me, to the light
Trust the wise man in the night
Take my hand, Hold on tight
Trust the Wise man in the light
Feel the emotion
Moving through your veins
Deeper devotion
Slowly heals the pain
Use all your wisdom
And fight away your fears
Forget all the darkness
And all those wasted tears
You gave all your life in vain
But it can't be the same
Walk, walk with me, to the light
Trust the wise man in the night
Take my hand, Hold on tight
Trust the Wise man in the light
Walk, walk with me, to the light
Trust the wise man in the light
Cast away the madness
You could never understand
And listen to the Wise man in your heart
Walk, walk with me, to the light
Trust the wise man in the night
Take my hand, Hold on tight
Trust the Wise man in the light
Let the wise man feed your might
Cast away the madness
You could never understand
And listen to the Wise man in your heart
