

All Your Love

Planet Funk

When I'm out in the night for the seventh time,
In this week i don't know why
I get high from the smiles of the party girls
As I leave my soul behind
As if all I am, as if all i was
Becomes a distant memory
I'm drowning all I know, just want to lose control
Not thinking straight but this is me

And when the sun goes down there's nothing left to lose
As we escape into the night

For your love ohh all your love
Where's the love ohh all your love
For your love

Losing consciousness, settle for nothing less
You need to pick me up the floor.
When I'm waking up feels like my heart will stop
But tonight I'm back for more

And when the sun goes down
There's nothing left to lose
As we escape into the night

For your love ohh all you're love
Where's the love ohh all your love
For your love
