

Fading Like A Rose

Plazma

In your eyes the fire goes out
Dying flames quench you with tears
Cold as ice he's lost in the crowd
Certain pain, despair and fear

You better leave your crying and believe me
Time will make amends
Time will make amends
It's not a blinder,
Someday you will find
The love that never ends
Love that never ends

You're fading like a rose
That's missing the rain
Loosing lives with pain
Your havens yet closed
You're fading like a rose
That's missing the light
It's all with the pride
Your havens yet closed
Your havens yet closed
You're fading like a rose

All alone you run in the streets
Beg a clean space out of your mind
You're alone, your broken heart bleeds
You need a place, some place to hide

You better leave your crying and believe me
Time will make amends
Time will make amends
It's not a blinder,
Someday you will find
The love that never ends
Love that never ends