

Hey There Little Bird

Plug in Stereo

Hey there little bird well don't you cry
Soon you will be strong enough to fly
So don't you dare give up
You'll get there soon enough
Those that are determined will survive

What's wrong quiet boy why won't you sing
I swear the world is brighter than it seems
It's hard to understand
But these times will make you a good man
And the end will justify the means

Let's pretend that we are soldiers
Lift your hands it's time to fight
If you're scared and feeling lonesome
Just pretend that you'll end up alright

Hey there pretty girl why won't you smile
One day you'll be walking down the aisle
Don't you dare give up
Cause some day you'll find love
You'll realize the wait was worth your while

What's wrong mama dear well don't be mad
I know at times you get fed up with dad
It's hard to understand
But deep down you know he's a good man
One day we'll look back at this and laugh

Let's pretend that we are soldiers
Lift your hands it's time to fight
If you're scared and feeling lonesome
Just pretend that you'll end up alright

Let's pretend that we are soldiers
Lift your hands it's time to fight
If you're scared and feeling lonesome
Just pretend that you'll end up alright
