

Late Great Planet Earth

Plumb

The world ends without a tragedy
Time is melting into history

The sky is falling
Voices crying out in desperation
Here they calling
Everybody, save yourself

The world plays its angered symphony
Lost inside eternal mystery

Doesn't matter what you say

Doesn't matter what you do
We all end up this way
There's one thing left to save you

The sky is falling
Voices crying out in desperation
Hear them calling
You can never save yourself

Save yourself...
