Poison the Well

Why do your eyes paralyze me? What makes me feel this way? Carry me away with silence and heartbeats as rapid Thinking about your embrace And how it makes me feel I just want to feel this way forever Sleep on portraits painted as perfect as you Why have I been given the chance to fly When I'm not with you I feel lesser alone Why have I been given the chance to fly, away? I remember your face imprinted on angels Your voice as beautiful as the sounds of waves Crashing against my heart Time slows down when you look at me I'm infatuated with this / infatuated with you I remember your face imprinted on angels It's so hard for me to understand Why I hadn't found you before Don't dull away, Hold my hand