

Falling

Polly Scattergood

Falling down this rabbithole
We're somewhere quite predictable
I'm somewhat irresponsible
And now I'm gone

I was told to get my coat
I'll meet you by the wishing well
And we all know how I wished you well
And now you're gone

Oh my God my heart is breaking
Is this what my mind is creating?
Oh my God I feel I'm falling down

Standing right in front of me
A shadow of an energy
The remnants of somebody
I think I used to know

Reflections in the corridors
Can't deny I wanted more
With every step I take
The ground keeps swallowing my feet

Oh my God my heart is breaking
Is this what my mind is creating?
Oh my God I feel I'm falling down

Paranoia is eating me
I can't sleep 'cause I'm still hungry
Paranoia is eating me
Please don't judge me on this moment

Oh my God my heart is breaking
Is this what my mind is creating?
Oh my God I feel I'm falling down

Oh my God my heart is breaking
Is this what my mind is creating?
Oh my God I feel I'm falling down
