

Same Blood

Pop Evil

We're all the same blood
(Blood, blood, blood)
We're all the same blood
(Blood, blood, blood)
Blood

Some people grow up too afraid to change (ooh)
Some people wake up in a place they hate (ah)
Some people give up when it's hard to stay (ooh)
But some people press on when their world begins to shake

I've seen a million different faces
Now I'm starting to see

We're all the same blood (same blood)
Every child and every race
We're all the same blood (same blood)
Every life we can't replace
I've seen a million different faces
Now I'm starting to see

We're all the same blood
(Blood, blood, blood, blood, blood, blood)
We're all the same blood
(Blood, blood, blood, blood, blood, blood)

So who are we to judge and break?
Dividing lines, machines of fate
Finding my footsteps, I'm breathing again
Out of the trenches, waking the lions within

(Ah)
I've been a million different places
Now I'm starting to see
I've seen a million different faces
All no different than me

We're all the same blood (same blood)
Every child and every race
We're all the same blood (same blood)
Every life we can't replace
I've been a million different places
Now I'm starting to see
Blood

(Ooh, ah)
(Ooh)
(Ooh, ah)

We're all the same blood (same blood)
Every child and every race
We're all the same blood (same blood)
Every life we can't replace
We're all the same blood (same blood)
Every child and every race
I've been a million different places
Now I'm starting to see

I've seen a million different faces
All no different than me

We're all the same blood
(Blood, blood, blood)
We're all the same blood
(Blood, blood, blood)
