Jesse James Symphony

Prefab Sprout

Jesse James is running and he'll never be at rest Till the day they fold his arms across his chest He's a long way from the cradle and his ma's authority

But it only seems a minute since he stood over his bed And she tried to tell him something now what the hell was it sh e said Jesse James is thinking of the breaks he never had And the gene that cursed his blood group rhesus-bad

Jesse James lived money his account was in the black Till the day he stopped a bullet with his back Well the zip code may read Vegas but the heart beats tupelo

And a footstep is such a small thing that it's neither here nor there Till you string those steps together and find home is way back Way back where ?

Jesse James was never part of life's great symphony All he heard were penny whistles out of key Jesse James he promised I will never die afraid That boy perjured every vow he ever made
