

Already Dead

Private Line

Wild town is dead and a new day born
Behind the sea where we grew up
Still the same fear makes me sick
I am proud of you my son
You will be the chosen one

I don't care what they say
I wanted to breathe, but I can't
Say hello to me my best friend
You're already dead

There was a time when we reached towards the rainbow
We touched it when it was too low
Some day I'll be stronger than a dark night
Free like a sun I'm ready to the other side

I don't care what they say
Say hello to me my best friend
I wanted to breathe, but I can't
I'm already dead

And no-one knows what they're talking about
And now I know they've got nothing inside
And no-one knows what I'm talking about
And now I know what they want...

But, I don't care what they say
I wanted to breathe, but I can't
Say hello to me my best friend
You're already dead
