

Endless Infinity

Project Pitchfork

You give me endless infinity
That's the deal between you and me
You give me endless infinity
For in this room, dies the god of doom

You give me endless infinity
That's the deal between you and me
You give me endless infinity
For in this room, dies the god of doom

I hate to remember, that you lost your temper
And all what you said, was cold and dead
But you are a gambler and now you remember, that you lost the bet
You're just a figure of our set

You went too far
And your words are bizarre
We're now in front of you
There is nothing you can do

You give me endless infinity
That's the deal between you and me
You give me endless infinity
For in this room, dies the god of doom

You give me endless infinity
That's the deal between you and me
You give me endless infinity
For in this room, dies the god of doom

You went too far
And your words are bizarre
We're now in front of you
There is nothing you can do

You give me endless infinity
That's the deal between you and me
You give me endless infinity
For in this room, dies the god of doom

All your selfish tries to catch us with lies
With a serpent hiss, you sent us into this
Your soul is so cruel, but you are just a fool
You thought that you could win, now crawl back in your tin

You went too far
And your words are bizarre
We're now in front of you
There is nothing you can do

You give me endless infinity
That's the deal between you and me
You give me endless infinity
For in this room, dies the god of doom

You give me endless infinity

That's the deal between you and me
You give me endless infinity
For in this room, dies the god of doom

You went too far
And your words are bizarre
We're now in front of you
There is nothing you can do
