Here I come to increase my power here I come to increase my control I make you think there is a devil but it's in you it's your malice I love your hate your hate lets me grow I'm your tool and your my toy and your my fool you conjure me you think you rule over me well that's my intention you can't escape the invisible you call me demon I'm an angel give me your blood I'm your servant while you're enjoying the might the bonds are getting tighter in coming lives you'll pay the price
