

These words are like paper ships
On the river of your attention
Sent to reach your ocean
And sink into its depths

Its water may help to unfold them
And its salt may wash their letters
Into the very meaning of who can see
The scene described right now

These words are like paper ships
On the river of your attention
And sink into its depths
