She's Dead

She's dying, everybody came to see She's falling and I know I'll never see her face again And I don't really know just why she's leaving All she ever said was she just had to go And I watch her as she walks away from me Yeah, I can see her then I know that in a moment she'll be gone Yeah, she'll be gone and and then I'll say "You've got to understand. She's not really breathing no not at all Those years of endless rain, they just washed her away." Oh and I know she's leaving Yeah she's going for good Oh and I'd love to go with you but I never would face it You've blown it this time round Now I understand just why she's leaving Oh if she'd have hung around with me Well you know she'd never go, no nonono Oh and I know she's leaving Yeah, she's going for good and I'd love to go with you but I ne ver would Oh and I know she's leaving Yeah, she's going for good and I'd love to go with you oh but I never would No I never would No I never would No I never would Oh no Dadadada dadada... She's never coming back Face it She's gone Oh Lalalala lalala... No I never would No I never would.

Pulp