

Don't Forget To Remember

Puressence

Standing in the half light sets me off And after all this time, coming here's strange There's still no paper hanging in the ha ll And if there's carpet down, I'd be amazed As I immerse mysel f in alcohol She's still walking on eggshells

Oh, when nothings like you want it Don't forget to remember How we both used to feel And when you used to smile at the camera
None of those pictures were real

And you're selling up with no regret I'm sorry now those scenar ios are dead The person that I need, I haven't met The people t hat I've met, I'll never need And as I immerse myself in vitrio l Well she's still casting those dead spells

we both used to feel And when you used to smile at the camera
None of those pictures were real

You have made your choice I hope you stick with it Hunt down a clan Destroy the ground with it Say what you say But some thing s remain well it's always the same

Don't forget to remember Fight for your right I hope you stick with it Hunt down a clan And destroy the ground with it Say wha t you say But some things remain Honey, please well, don't forg et to remember How we both used to feel And when you used to sm ile at the camera None of those pictures were real None of this was ever real

La la la la...

Don't forget to remember

La la la la...
