

Back for More

Pyramaze

You were picked up again
In the early morning
Broke and battered along the road
Only bruises remain
From a painful warning
Time to disengage and reload

Something lures after dark
It's so hard to resist it
Time and time again I witness

You won't give up
There's plenty of reasons to stop
Though it's harder than before
You keep coming back for more
Beat up and broken, you stand
Like waves upon the shore
You're coming back for more
There's nothing new to explore
Still you're coming back for more

Some admit when they're wrong
And some learn their lesson
But you won't even hear me out

'Cause something lures after dark
It's so hard to resist it
Time and time again I witness

You won't give up
There's plenty of reasons to stop
Though it's harder than before
You keep coming back for more
Beat up and broken, you stand
Like waves upon the shore
You're coming back for more
There's nothing new to explore
Still you're coming back for more

You won't give up
You need the adrenalin rush
Though it's harder than before
You keep coming back for more
Looking for ways to be crushed
Like waves upon the shore
You're coming back for more
