

Symphony of Tears

Pyramaze

Empty hours
Only ashes left
From the fire that used to burn within Days are numbered
Where I even feel alive
And free from the sin

So tell me where you are
Can you help me figure out this mess?
Disillusioned by the fact
I may never get that far

I find a face before I play
The inner struggles of the day
So no one sees and no one hears
The yearning symphony of tears
My acting is cold pretense
To keep me in the dark
I'm simply falling apart

I move in circles
Life is on repeat
And distractions keep me occupied
But always lurking
The voice of death seducing me
And I can't defy

So tell me where you are
Can you help me figure out myself?
Disillusioned by the fact
I may never get that far

I find a face before I play
The inner struggles of the day
So no one sees and no one hears
The yearning symphony of tears

It doesn't matter all defense
To keep me in the dark
I'm simply falling apart
Falling apart
Your disappearance crushed
My future and my heart

I find a face before I play
The inner struggles of the day
So no one sees and no one hears
The yearning symphony of tears

My acting is cold pretense
To keep me in the dark
I'm simply falling apart

I find a face before I play

It doesn't matter all defense
To keep me in the dark
