

Bones

Quinn XCII

Down down deep in the bottom
Beneath all the traces of all these old broken bones is her love
Tell you, tell you she's bad news
Wears hearts like a tattoo
Her friends won't deny it still we never get enough
She breaks down all the souls that spend their days beside her
Don't listen to what you've been told, this girl's a ruthless liar
Said she loves you son, hold onto that gun never let go
Dive away from that hit and run, don't say I never said so

Time is up, we chase it, but she's alone let's face it
There's days she don't know which way to turn
The crowd is getting older, her heart is getting colder
She's slowly reached the point of no return

Down down deep in the bottom
Beneath all the mistakes, the lies and the wide spread tells is her love
Millions and billions of stories where she takes all the glory
Been told so many times the truth got lost long ago
She sets the course for us all, still can't believe we play hard
And in her mind she's the queen, treats me like I'm no face card
But in the end we've won, falls onto her knees, Ready Set Go
Cause when it's all said and done, the front she puts on is all show

Time is up, we chase it, but she's alone let's face it
There's days she don't know which way to turn
The crowd is getting older, her heart is getting colder
She's slowly reached the point of no return

Don't go breaking my bones now, bones now there you go
Don't go breaking my bones now, bones now there you go
Said you're breaking my bones now, bones now there you go
Your heart is breaking my bones now, bones now there you go
You know you're breaking my bones now, bones now there you go
Said you're breaking my bones now, bones now there you go

Time is up, we chase it, but she's alone let's face it
There's days she don't know which way to turn
The crowd is getting older, my heart is getting colder
She's slowly reached the point of no return
