

Candle

Quinn XCII

I was so tempted by you
To never press rewind and run through street signs
But now, I've seen all the truth
It's covered on your hands, we're losing our romance

You love starting riots, standing in the dark
Try to fight these giants, oh, you hate their bark

You know your ways get under my skin
The world's tiniest violin on my shoulder like
"Oh, she's too much to handle"
I've had too much of what you give me
Overdosing on this thing
You were my match, now I can't put out the candle

Come and show me
Oh, she's too much to handle
Come and show me
I can't put out the candle

I was so blinded by you
The way that you love me and all it takes from me
But now I've seen all the truth, it's written on your face
Can't keep up with your pace, your pace, oh

You love starting riots, standing in the dark
Try to fight these giants, oh, you hate their bark
You love sounding sirens, drag me through the sparks
Tryin' to fight these giants, oh you hate their bark

You know your ways get under my skin
The world's tiniest violin on my shoulder like
"Oh, she's too much to handle"
I've had too much of what you give me
Overdosing on this thing
You were my match, now I can't put out the candle

Come and show me
Oh, she's too much to handle
Come and show me
I can't put out the candle

I hope you know it's not personal
This can't unsolve 'til we're miserable
I can't put out the candle

Come and show me
Oh, she's too much to handle
Come and show me
I can't put out the candle
