

You know I'd give you my whole world
But I can't make you love me
We always seem so far apart
But that don't mean we're lonely

Sometimes when no one's home
I close my eyes
You're always there for me
You'll always be my centerfold
And I can't live without you

These things I need must be a crime
You're making it hard to take my time
I'd sell my soul to make you mine
A body like yours is hard to find
Whoa, whoa, whoa~

Just let me take control of you
I'll never leave you wanting
I see you in the magazines
It's like you're always taunting

Sometimes when no one's home
I close my eyes
You're always there for me
You'll always be my centerfold
And I can't live without you

These things I need must be a crime
You're making it hard to take my time
I'd sell my soul to make you mine
A body like yours is hard to find
And I hoped you'd see
I'm falling in love with ecstasy
There's nothing left but you and me
Getting lost in fantasy

This fantasy might not be fair
I feel so good I just don't care
And I'll never let you go
Let you go
Yeahhhhhh

These things I need must be a crime
You're making it hard to take my time
I'd sell my soul to make you mine
A body like yours is hard to find
And I hoped you'd see
I'm falling in love with ecstasy
There's nothing left but you and me
Getting lost in fantasy
