

Running Blind

Ra

If you always fall in pouring rain
Do you feel like you can stand the pain
If the sky won't speak and the sun won't shine
Is Love so hard to find
Or are we running blind
How long will it take
For you to feel again
Hours turn to days
And I am still my only friend
Sitting here alone the echoes in my soul
Calling out your name just seems to dig a deeper Crying out for something
Fighting fade away if you always fall in the pouring rain
Do You feel like you can stand the pain
If the sky won't speak and the sun won't shine
Is love so hard to find
Or are we running blind

How am I to blame its clearly not my fault
I never made this choice to lock myself up in the vault
The sound of silence ring
The wind is always cold
I listen to the ...crying out for something Fighting fade away
if you always fall in the pouring rain
You feel like you can stand the pain
If the sky won't speak and the sun won't shine
is love so hard to find

Are you running blind
if you are always falling in the pouring rain
You feel like you can stand the pain
If the sky won't speak and the sun won't shine
Love is so hard to find
Are you running blind
