

Chick Song

Racoon

Strange affliction's watching over
My hangover can't be sold
Strange addictions become a part of me in here

But you don't owe me anything
You don't owe me shit in life
Still the talk never comes alone
When I told her she'd be waiting life as long as she lasts life living so

Boredom died too easily in your head thanks to my hands
Now you're searching more than that change
But I ain't bitter anymore

But you don't owe me anything
You don't owe me shit in life
Still the talk never comes alone
And I told her she'd be waiting life as long as she lasts life
living so

Strange afflictions is watching over
My hangovers can't be sold
Oh but I'm hoping 'cause I'm coping fine today

My affliction's marching in Everything I held for right is moving
Straight the other way

So you don't owe me anything
You don't owe me shit in life
Still the talk never comes alone
And I told her she'll be waiting life as long as she lasts life
living so
Man I told her she'd be waiting life as long as she lasts life
living so
