

Close Your Eyes

Racoon

Lost the things that you thought you would never miss
Let them out, miss them while they are gone
But there's memories down here that will always live
And they can't take them away so they won't
Open this window, let the sickness out
Sleep softly and breath again
If there's a way then it'll find you and help you out
You're like a circle there's no start and no end

Close your eyes, you might see something beautiful
Cause It's not all pitch-black in the back of your mind
So Close your eyes, you might see something prettier
You pick a dream right out of the night

And change I wish for I will, cause it's gonna work
You can do this, it's your life
And if you are unhappy about something, stop jerking about
Follow the clouds and dive right in

Open this window, just let the wind blow in
And let it grab you and calm you down
And if there is no way then find a way,
Don't go down the easy way,
And don't let any of them bastards hold you down

Close your eyes, you might see something beautiful
Cause it's not all pitch-black in the back of your mind
So Close your eyes, you might see something prettier
So pick a dream right out of the night

Welcome to the show,
Cause you're following the man, with the million dollar plan
And all your dreams are gone if you let them go
Yeah all the dreams you win, if you dare to make it so

If you dare to make it so

You lost the things that you thought you would never miss
You let them out, miss them while they're gone
But there's memories down here and they will always live down here
No they can't take them away, so they won't

Close your eyes, you might see something beautiful
It's not all pitch-black in the back of your mind
So Close your eyes, you might see something prettier
You pick your dream right out of the night
