

I Can't Help Myself

Bonnie Raitt

Can't help myself, falling in love
I can't help myself
Can't help myself, falling in love

Billy was a friend of mine
We used to walk down by the river
And he'd hold my hand

We were only ten or twelve years old
Didn't know about love
I found out that it could hurt you so

Can't help myself, falling in love
I can't help myself
Can't help myself, falling in love

Jimmie was the one in high school days
We used to drive around the city
Thinking we'd grown up

Must've been just about sweet sixteen
I found a brand new world
Brand new love that I had never seen

Can't help myself, falling in love
I can't help myself
Can't help myself, falling in love

No matter how hard I try
I just can't leave it alone
No use in wonderin' why
'Cause my heart has a mind of its own

Can't help myself, falling in love
I can't help myself
Can't help myself, falling in love

But I keep on falling

Can't help myself, falling in love
I can't help myself
I keep on falling
Can't help myself, falling in love

I keep right on falling

Can't help myself, falling in love
I can't help myself
Can't help myself, falling in love
Falling in love