

12 Cans

Randy

Theres no way im gonna fit in, these narrowminded people is just more than i can bare. People asked me where ive been, ive tried to be anywhere anywhere but here. But my luck seemed to take a drastic turn, amongst all the cretins you appeared. Reveling answers ive longed to hear. All of my frustrations wached away and disappeared. Suddenly i was a new man, was it you or the 12 cans of beer. Who can say, it really dont matter that much, if its love or if its lust, its all the same to me. I will disagree when i wake up in the morning and recalls the misstakes i made the night before. Wait this is not my plan, this is getting out of hand. Guess i have to change myself this is my fault and nobody elses. But do i really care.....NO!
