

Through To You

Raven-Symoné

{Can you turn my vocals up a little bit?
A lil more, I gotta really tell them how it is on this}

I was rollin' down the street and I
Pulled up beside you in your new ride
You were lookin' kinda fine so I asked if you would be my guy tonight
And we danced the night away and we
Clicked automatically then she hit you seven thrity three
Asking who I am and why your here with me
Yea

Your wasteing my time with all of your lies
I cant find a way to get through but right now
I dont wanna fuss I'm not gunna fight
What will it take to get through to you

Your wasteing my time with all of your lies
I cant find a way to get through but right now
I sacrificed whats good in my life
To find a way to get through to you

I thought you were down for me
And I was happy as can be then I
Looked in your inbox and I realized I was lied to all this time
Why did you tell me she's your friend
Come to find out she's your woman
After all this time I cant believe you'd do this to me

Your wasteing my time with all of your lies
I cant find a way to get through but right now
I dont wanna fuss I'm not gunna fight
What will it take to get through to you

Your wasteing my time with all of your lies
I cant find a way to get through but right now
I sacrificed whats good in my life
To find a way to get through to you

See there is so much love
For you and me I know that you care for me
But you should know as much as I love you
I cant take no more so you better come correct or go

Your wasteing my time with all of your lies
I cant find a way to get through but right now
I dont wanna fuss I'm not gunna fight
What will it take to get through to you

Your wasteing my time with all of your lies
I cant find a way to get through but right now
I sacrificed whats good in my life
To find a way to get through to you

{Why? all these lies... I just cant take it anymore}
