Hey - she's on her way keep the drink a'coming just get out of her way she's on a roll tonight go go baby in another cat fight hey - she's got it all figured out working all the angles & there's ain't no doubt hey - the camera never lies wearing out your welcome and you just can't deny

You think you got it down & they'll come running round but when its time to fly they'll leave you high & dry go - here we go - you're a train wreck coming waiting to happen see - don't you see - you're a train wreck coming guaranteed go - here we go - cos you're heading for trouble train wreck coming now

Running from tomorrow trying to find a detour from today they got you on the front page twisting every word you say hey - a movie star - no sign of talent who'd you think you are got one for the money two for the show sink another drink and watch her go go go

You think you got it down running all over town one step forward two steps back 24 carat heart attack

They turned their back on you - now what you gonna do the only sound you hear - is screaming in your ears