A Corpse Is Forever

Sifting past worms Stroke her cold skin A staring lifeless gaze Through slits sewn chut

Ripping off her burial dress Nipples decayed and stiff A body pure and willing Without a word from her lips

Our coffin is sacred Aged with cum and soil A love that can't be severed Because a corpse is forever

Her dried flesh resists As my erection slips through I swear she is smiling With a face so pale and blue

I keep her in the basement So were never disturbed My funeral lover Chemically preserved Ravenous
