Return of the Dragon

Rawhead Rexx

The dragon's born into a murderous world But no one knew it will get much worse Water will turn into blood And soon it will water the ground

The tears all like rain in the garden of pain Brightness is fading away

The army in black is coming back Return of the dragon - dragon

Child out of hell grew up in a death machine With hate in his eyes he's out of control He follows his rule and kills all the fools When ever they get in his way

The tears all like rain in the garden of pain Brightness is fading away

The army in black is coming back Return of the dragon - dragon

The tears all like rain in the garden of pain Brightness is fading away

The army in black is coming back Return of the dragon - dragon The army in black is coming back Return of the dragon - dragon