

As Usual

Ray Stevens

The Sun comes up and brings the dawn
As usual
Then I awake and find you gone
As usual

But I can't find a way to let
This crazy heart of mine forget
I pretend you're still beside me
As usual (As usual)

Each evening I still take my walk
As usual (As usual)
And I make believe that we still talk
As usual (As usual)

People always stop and stare
I guess they just don't see you there
They don't know you'll always be with me
As usual (As usual)

Today I looked into my mirror
As usual (As usual)
I told myself that you're still here
As usual (As usual)

And as I stood there telling lies
Tears began to fill my eyes
'Cause I know I'm only fooling myself
As usual (As usual)
Yeah I guess I always try to fool myself
As usual (As usual)
