

Iron Legions

Razor

Forces beyond your control expose you to hazardous waste Arson, the deviants play, igniting the lead that you taste Acid, the rain starts to fall, smokescreen develops above Nature, the balance destroyed, killing the life that you love

Legions protest in the streets
The people aren't willing to die Riots, the masses are angry Exposing the corporate lie (again)

Fighting the ignorant scum, they do anything that they please Fatcats, they don't have the time to help us prevent this disease Violence grows with the problem, an issue the big shots ignore Anger, the people revolt, the legions will even the score

Terrorism by another name, the end result's the same Nobody wants to drink the acid rain, no way!
