

You're Real

Rebecca Lynn Howard

Your lips, soft as moonlight
Your touch, velvet and steel
Your eyes, sparkle like fireflies
And I love how you make me feel
Sometimes I can't believe you're real

My life, was like a garden
Where love, just would not grow
Then you, covered me in sunshine
Oh, I love how you make me feel
Sometimes I can't believe you're real

And you are my dream come true
I never thought I'd see the day I'd find someone like you
If I could I'd offer you the stars
But you deserve much more, so I'm giving you my heart

You must have come from heaven
To hold me in your wings
I pray this lasts forever
Cause I love how you make me feel
I still can't believe you're real

Your lips, soft as moonlight
Your touch, velvet and steel
Your eyes, sparkle like fireflies
And I love how you make me feel
I still can't believe you're real
You're real, baby
