

You look divine, I gotta make you mine
Puts me in a daze
Puts me back in time
Like laying eyes on the perfect find
I was giving up on love and life
So done
Love - I'm fed up with it
So dumb
You know it's true what they say
When love's in the air
People never know that it's there

Meet me at the spot in 20
We can take a walk outside
Hopefully my heart beats steady
So I can recite my lines
If I could just call you baby
You could call me what you like
Take a glance at the sunset tonight
Let's carve our initials in that rock for life

She has a mindset that I admire
Settles the storm
Never fuels the fire
Gives me energy when I get tired
Plus, she's a beauty and the one I desire
I try to hold these feelings steady
But they were here already
Woah, little did we know it was here

Meet me at the spot in 20
We can take a walk outside
Hopefully my heart beats steady
So I can recite my lines
If I could just call you baby
You could call me what you like
Take a glance at the sunset tonight
Let's carve our initials in that rock for life
