

The water's cold, deep too
When the ice all melts, we're fish food
Not to question your beliefs, baby, not to be rude
But you better wrap your head around the magnitude

Of livin' on a volcano
When's it gonna blow?
Livin' on a volcano
You'll be the first to know

Well we can't save the whales, we got some bigger fish to fry
Can't waste no money growing trees with this election to buy
Watch 'em vanish from the earth like it's part of God's plan
Climate change is just a hoax and so is monkey to man

There's all kinds of theories and you can't argue that
But just a couple hundred years ago, this world was still flat
So open your minds and open up your eyes
You might be in for a big surprise

When you're livin' on a volcano
When's it gonna blow?
Livin' on a volcano
We'll be the first to know
We'll be the first to know

Well we came in with a bang but we're all fading out
With the next big wave, or the next big drought
We're making a killing, we're passing the buck
But you won't need money, just a whole lotta luck

When you're livin' on a volcano
When's it gonna blow?
Livin' on a volcano
We'll be the first to know
We'll be the first to know
