

Who's Gonna Be Your Baby Now

Reckless Kelly

Well, you told your best friend
But you never told me
And everybody saw it comin'
But I didn't believe

And then you built your walls up
Now, everybody's breaking 'em down
So who's gonna pick up the pieces
After I quit comin' around?

And who you gonna turn to
When the lights go out?
When the movie's over
Who you gonna think about?
In the middle of the darkness
When there's nobody around
Tell me, who's gonna be your baby now?

It broke my heart in a minute
And it wasn't even yours to break
Somehow, I got caught up in it
I never learn from my mistakes

When I knew there were others
There always are with a girl like you
And I'll stand in line while you made up your mind
Knowin' just what I would do

So who you gonna turn to
When the lights go out?
When the honeymoon's over
Who you gonna talk about?
In the middle of the darkness
When there's nobody around
Tell me, who's gonna be your baby now?

Well, I was just a long shot
From the wrong side of this town
Should've seen it down the stretch
You should've seen me shut 'em all down

And now I know that winning
Doesn't always mean winning the race
'Cause I was only bettin' all out
But you bet on another to win

So who you gonna turn to
When the lights go out?
When the fairytale's over
Who you gonna dream about?
All alone in the darkness
When your true love ain't around
Tell me, who's gonna be your baby now?
Who's gonna be your baby now?
Who's gonna be your baby now?
