

Beacon Hill

Red Rider

Look back
(Shout out, shout it)
There's someone close behind
It's a face that I remember

(Come out, come out)
In the air, there's a feeling that I know
Speaks to me of better times

Come out, come out
Never say bust
If you don't start to move
You'll start to rust

Shot down, shot down
I know you'll rise up again
Just like the phoenix
From the dust

What ever happened to the bright-eyed one
What ever happened to the dreams we'd hold
What ever happened to the light on Beacon Hill
I know it's up there burning still

Shout out, shout out
I know you could melt these hearts
And where's the face we all remember

Come out, come out
And put lightning in these veins
Throw away the mask of anger

What ever happened to the bright-eyed one
What ever happened to the dreams we'd hold
What ever happened to the light on Beacon Hill
I know it's up there burning still

It's burning still

What ever happened to the bright-eyed one
What ever happened to the dreams we'd hold
What ever happened to the light on Beacon Hill
I know it's up there burning still

What ever happened to the bright-eyed one
What ever happened to the dreams we'd hold
What ever happened to the light on Beacon Hill
I know it's up there burning still
