Just Dropped In (To See What Condition My Condition Was In)

Reef

- I woke up this morning with the sun out shining in
- I found my mind in a brown paper bag but then
- I tripped on a cloud and fell eight miles high
- I tore my mind on a jagged sky
- I just dropped in to see what condition my condition was in
- I pushed my soul in a deep dark hole and then I followed in
- I watched myself crawling out now, as I came crawling in
- I got up so tight I couldn't unwind
- I saw so much, I broke my mind
- I just dropped in to see what condition my condition was in

Somebody painted April fool in big black letters on a dead end sign

I had my foot on the gas as I left the road and blew out my min $\ensuremath{\mathtt{d}}$

Eight miles out of Memphis and I got no spare

Eight miles straight up downtown somewhere

I just dropped in to see what condition my condition was in
