We talked about tripping on the way home back in my car The things we've been missing The things that have happened so far

Time passes by

We talked about tripping on the way home back in my car I turn to you and listen You talk and it make's me smile

Time passes by I'm still locked inside

Save me Save me From this broken car