

New Bird

Reef

Bird that flew away, to a foreign place, won't come back unchanged.
Sleepless as I lay, in my laboured state,
who would rather say: "I want a new bird?"
My lover?

Sold myself away in the U.S.A. what a price I paid.
Hard 'tis to believe,
that they'd never seen salted waters green.