

Twilight Child

Reflexion

Touch the moon and walk on seas
Bless the one who's born from tears
Let me be
Set me free

Walk the path you think is right
Take hold of the world at your side
Let me be
Set me free

By giving your heart and soul
The night will lead your way
By reading the signs from the stars
You'll find your place to stay
Let the night lead your way

When there is no turning back
You'll defeat the curse they cast
Now you're free eternally

By giving your heart and soul
The night will lead your way
By reading the signs from the stars
You'll find your place to stay
Let the night lead your way

When the storm comes, rain hits your face
Spread your arms and smile

By giving your heart and soul
The night will lead your way
By reading the signs from the stars
You'll find your place to stay
Let the night lead your way

By giving your heart and your soul
The night will lead your way
By reading the signs from the stars
You will find your place to stay
