Twilight Child

Reflexion

Touch the moon and walk on seas
Bless the one who's born from tears
Let me be
Set me free

Walk the path you think is right Take hold of the world at your side Let me be Set me free

By giving your heart and soul
The night will lead your way
By reading the signs from the stars
You'll find your place to stay
Let the night lead your way

When there is no turning back You'll defeat the curse they cast Now you're free eternally

By giving your heart and soul
The night will lead your way
By reading the signs from the stars
You'll find your place to stay
Let the night lead your way

When the storm comes, rain hits your face Spread your arms and smile

By giving your heart and soul
The night will lead your way
By reading the signs from the stars
You'll find your place to stay
Let the night lead your way

By giving your heart and your soul The night will lead your way By reading the signs from the stars You will find your place to stay
