

Let You Be

Regine Velasquez

Time goes by after sad goodbye-s.
So many changes meeting new faces
Different places with different cases.
For other concerns your heart now burns

Can we still be together I ask.
On my shy face I put on a mask
Am I a block to your destiny.
Or maybe I should just let you be

Maybe I should learn to call on you.
Like what you used to do when you're blues

Bring back yesterday I sing.
When friendship was a spontaneous thing
Am I part of your destiny.
Or maybe I should just let you be

Time moves in circles.
Here I hope for miracles.
Lost in confusion.
I don't know how to move on

Am I too selfish on my part.
Thinking you left me.
Now we're apart.
But it's unfair of you to leave me here.
Living your dreams while I weep here in tears
