

Magic Still Remains

ReinXeed

Trapped in domain with a fool on the crown soaring high under a spell Whispering voices through wind and the trees now I'll take my change to be free Open the cage they'll never know
We will not be the jester in this show
Run to the gate, we see the path
Heaven is right by our side

One day our stories will tell us the truth how they surrendered with pride
As we walk through the valley of darkest of night
Magic still remains

Darkest of night with no light to see
But the oldest of wisdom is blind
Nowhere to run when they come through the depths of mirror in water to see Outstanding magic all around
The light from the savior is the crown
Left all bad memories behind
Finally I can go home
